

Modify your button GUI program so that the buttons change color, automatically, about every second unless they've been pressed.